Mr. Sifton is Dissatisfied.

Resignation is Now Likely in the Premier's Hands.

Ottawa, March 1.—The resignation of Mr. Clifford Sifton will be in the Premier's hands to-day, if indeed it is not there already. That is the direction in which matters were shaping last night. The fact is that the resignation is likely to be dissatisfied with the Education Clause in the Autonomy Bills—Sir Wilfred Laurier, when seen at 8 o'clock, would neither allow nor deny the report. "If Mr. Sifton has resigned, Sir Wilfred has made a statement to the House," was all the Prime Minister would say.

Mr. Wolfe replied that had he expected this denial of his statement, he would have been prepared to produce copies of Canadian literature. If it had been his possession bearing the frank of the Postmaster-General, it would have been put there by an unauthorized person, the act was tantamount to perjury. The discussion on the fraying about lasted until 4 o'clock, and the evening sitting was spent in Committee of Supply.

Ottawa, March 1.—The bill to legislate the Ottawa Labor Label will go up to the Senate with the amendment that the privilege of the act shall apply only to incorporated trades unions, in this shape it is altogether likely that the measure will pass the Upper House.

Pretext From Western Baptists.
Ottawa, March 1.—The Baptists of the west, through A. P. McLeary, president of the association, and J. P. McLeary, secretary, have submitted a strong protest to the Dominion Council of the Religious Schools clause in the autonomy bills, because of the invasion of Provincial rights, as every Province should be free to legislate for itself on educational matters. It is evident that the principle is consistently entertained by Baptists, equal rights and separation of church and state.

The New Holy

...to Dublin. "My darling, I must go and some shopping. I can go alone. I will call again in an hour."

CHAPTER XXV

It was the next day that George went to Ireland. At the door he was informed that Ireland had been ill with his heart and that the doctor had been called in. Nevertheless Ireland went to bed. He entered the large room and saw his former guardian seated at the desk as usual. The man looked very ill; his large, placid face was extremely pale. There were dark circles under his eyes, and his eyes seemed to have grown dim. His clothes hung loosely on him, and he did not rise when George entered.

"Excuse me, George," he said, with an attempt at cheerfulness, "but I am not so well as I might be."

"You're looking ill," very ill," said George, remarking his.

"I can't live long," said George, taking his heavy boots. "So the doctor intimated. I'm heart is extremely weak. It's as bad as it will be for. For the last few days I've been taking a walk, and my appetite is better. I'm quite capable of getting on my feet."

"I'm glad to hear that," said George, looking at him.

"I have every reason to be," said George, looking at him.

"With her daughter? How is that?" "Well, she's doing very well. She was married last week. I heard of it. My grandfather has been the best of the confidante and now both are well."

"Is she pleased?" "Very pleased. He is now as friendly toward me as he has been hitherto."

Ireland nodded, breathing heavily. "I thought he would be. He said he had a long talk about you on the day I was in town."

"And now?" "Well, he's doing very well. He's looking better. I'm glad to hear that."

"I think she liked him, but it was Jenny who flirted with him."

"I think she liked him, but it was Jenny who flirted with him."

Awful Carnage in Greatest Battle of Modern Times—Kurapatkin's Losses Placed at 25,000, While Japs Are Said to Have Lost 40,000 Men—Japs Said to be Greatly Exhausted—Kurapatkin Launches Blow.

St. Petersburg, March 7.—According to the Russian press, the tide of battle yesterday gradually was rolling back from the immediate vicinity of Mukden, operations up to noon having resulted in the capture of several villages west and southwest of Mukden, but the Japanese inaugurated a series of desperate attacks, the outcome of which still is not chronicled. Gen. Kurapatkin is considered to be the best of Gen. Kurapatkin's subordinates, has taken personal charge of the operations in this field. The Commander-in-Chief also is directing the action to the fighting in the same vicinity.

At latest reports the Japanese also had launched an attack against Fushin Hill and other points on the Russian front, presumably with the intention of regaining positions from which the Russians had control there during the night. The Japanese Gen. Kurapatkin from dispatching further reinforcements against Mukden had pressed retreat. The latter, however, have got by heavy shell artillery to their support, making a stand on Fushin Hill, and the Japanese claim minor successes against Gen. Kurapatkin, but, having lost his hill, and effected at least one of his objects, and of driving Russian reinforcements, may have forced part of the army to retreat from the centre and west flank.

WOUNDED CREW NOT.
Head North of Mukden Grown With Cars Filled With Men.

Headquarters of Gen. Benzenberg, near Qobanau, March 6.—(4 a.m.)—(Via Mukden, March 7.)—The head northward is crowded so far as the eye can reach by a continuous line of the wounded Chinese, half of Russian wounded, the best testimony of the value with which the army of the east, fighting continuously for a fortnight, has defended every inch of ground over which it has been compelled to surrender numbers to retreat. Each cart bears from three to five wounded men, whose evacuation is almost too utter for them to feel pain.

Heavily a group or cry to be heard, not even the noise of the rifle, only the clank of the wheels and the rattling of the powder horns are audible. That of the wounded have their heads covered with Chinese blankets or dirty rags, and with coughing blood, halting men and dirty faces, drenched with sweat, and eyes and cramped noses with tears, here and there is seen a cart in a corpse, which with every bell, sounds against the agonizing groans of the men whose death has been agony.

A Valley of Death.
The valley in front of the Russian position has become a valley of death, and corpses are seen like debris removed in the dead. Again and again the Japanese charged the ridge, and the Russian position of the ridge was the possession of the "hill with the towers." No quarter was given or given.

Here a Japanese was a stone, a heavy artillery fire on the hill with the towers. The Russian field commander, who had been shot, was a heavy artillery fire on the hill with the towers. 50,000 Japs in Attack.

Beginning at 3 a. m., the Japanese made a succession of desperate attacks on Gen. Therpitzky's division on the west front of Island No. 1. The assault at intervals of 15 minutes, with constant reinforcements. About 60,000 Japanese with 200 pieces of artillery, participated. All the attacks were repulsed, there being enormous losses on both sides. One extremely important position changed hands several times. Island No. 1, Gen. Therpitzky, on horseback, placing his troops at the head of his troops, led his regiments to the attack with colors flying and music playing. The attack was successful. After it was over the victorious soldiers crowded around Gen. Therpitzky, shouting and cheering and waving his hands and feet. The Russians captured several quick-fire guns and many Japanese prisoners, including officers.

ANOTHER DEFEAT.
Russian Army is Now in a Very Desperate Struggle.

St. Petersburg, March 4.—That the battle of Mukden will go down in history with Liaoyang in the long list of Russian defeats, is the almost universal belief here. The War Office does not admit that the issue of the great battle, which already exceeds in magni-

Despatches dated at 8 o'clock last night indicate that the position of the Russian army after a day of fighting fighting is desperate. Everything terribly now depends on Gen. Kuropatkin's reserve. While the Japanese hurried themselves forward at every point yesterday, their main energies were behind the west and southwest in an attempt to envelope the Russian right and drive a wedge through the line at Madyapa; but Gen. Kuropatkin seems to have been able successfully to elude this danger.

to protect the railroad to Mukden; and at nightfall it was reported, he practically was holding all his positions. At the same time he was drawing in and shortening his line to the southeast.

All the concentrated attacks of the Japanese to the westward failed and the efforts of Gens. Nogi and Oku to push the encircling movement north and eastward across Gen. Kuropatkin's line of communications was blocked. One correspondent telegraphs of hearing firing to the northward, towards Tie Pass, which may be between Cosacka and a flying column of Japanese.

St. Petersburg, March 8.—Kuropatkin has advised the Czar that the general situation of the Manchurian army is such as to make it imperative that Mukden be evacuated at once. The Czar, it is reported, has ordered the Russian commander to hold the city as long as possible.

SIXTH DAY OF BATTLE.
Raged With Undiminished Vigor From Dawn Till Dark.

Seven Days Without Rest.—The days are increasing in number, while the nights are shortening. The troops have been seven days without rest and their powers of resistance are fast becoming exhausted. The strain of the terrible war. The ground is deeply frozen. The Japanese command is confident that the Japanese division is known to have extended to Helling.

The Japanese maintained a frontal attack Sunday night, having attacked Shangkai, Erdragou and Hsuanhai and the Chinese army, where they are again advancing. The Japanese are attacking but on the southwest the Russians are falling back on their second positions. The Japanese are attacking the Chinese thrown back on the Russian settlement, converting it into a great meeting place. VLADIMIR A MARKED MAN.
Terrorists Seek the Grand Duke's Life
—Another Attempt.

St. Petersburg, March 8.—Grand Duke Vladimir, it is reported, has again been placed for assassination, in spite of the promises contained in the recent imperial rescript.

On account of the rescript lately of several weeks ago, and terrorist notifications, the sentries about the Grand Duke's palace have been doubled and ordered to exercise special watchfulness.

According to a current report, a terrorist, disguised in the uniform of a general, attempted to gain access to the Grand Duke's residence.

TIMELY TOPICS.

Looks as though the sunny spring weather will be here.

If Jack Frost will finally walk off from St. and stop on one of those iron deer mountains, there is every reason to believe that the halibut of winter would soon be broken.

By the way, isn't it possible to cover up those deer with boards in the alpine weather? They are a menace to the wicked and right ones.

One of Belleville's society leaders called the Intelligencer up on the "pleasant last night and complimented us as our remarks to local doctors and the Hospital. There is no doubt at all that the people of this town, and all, are of the opinion that all local doctors, in good standing, should be treated with as far as the privileges of the Hospital are concerned. As to the additional remarks of the doctor, with whom we have talked this morning, a moderate extra donation to the Hospital, the size of the same, would be a very reasonable arrangement with which the Executive Committee of the Hospital is in agreement.

The Board of Trade certainly took a popular chord last night when they commended the action of the corporation of a free city bridge. People who have given this matter a thought, and who are not at all surprised that the action of the bridge toll would be an increase of 25 per cent. on the trade of local merchants. Think of what that would mean to our city!

There is no need to tell anybody that the halibut of Belleville is the trade done on Front St. Whatever benefits that trade brings to our people as a whole, whatever hurts the merchants bring everybody, and hurts them bad.

Belleville has been marked in the Midland district, and has stores which will compare more than favorably with any in Canada outside the big cities. The fact that farmers are advertising that market and those stores where there is something really new, and the same of it all is not hard to see. And other places are making extra efforts and offering extra inducements to secure the trade which, in the interests of the outside purchasers and the local merchants, should come to Belleville.

There is only one way to meet it, and that is, halfway. If Belleville merchants want that trade, they must go after it, and must be in a position to say: "Here, it will cost you no more to come to our big market and expect more than it will to go to small markets and inferior stores in other places." And the wise-wake farmers, who can save a through a stone wall by a couple of cents, and if we all know, a remarkably keen eye for the main chance, will see the point in a fraction less than no time.

Here is a matter which calls for immediate action. The Board of Trade has placed itself on record, and it is now in the Council. If Mayor Holmes and the Council of 1905 met in committee, they would have to make a decision on the matter for the city. If they do not, it will be a failure, and, if unable, take such action as will make the city bridge absolutely free. This is not a visionary idea. It is founded on the carefully arrived at decision of the matter for years. We hope, before long, to see the matter supported in an unimpeachable way, and the present, in many cases, a graphic title abolished.

(Ontario Telegram)

The horns of the Japanese half moon have been forced in from positions analogous to Whitley on the east end of Hamilton to the west end of Kurokita in the position of a general being bombarded by siege guns and forced out of his position at Toronto. This entire scene is being steadily weakened by the withdrawal of forces to defend the western, Kurokita's only line of retreat. Young men will make a note of this, and the difficulties of Kurokita are indicated by the analogy which represents.

Lieut.-Gen. Linovich Is Again Giving Way.

AND GEN. KUROKITA IS MAKING PROGRESS—THAT IS THE LAT. BEST NEWS WHICH HAS REACHED ST. PETERSBURG.

(Special Telegrams from St. Petersburg, March 8.)—The Japanese are making progress. That General Kurokita is making progress and is already reaching a point 14 miles south of Rangoon yesterday, showing that the Japanese are making progress. The first Japanese victory, in again giving way, is the latest news from the front. The Japanese are pushing the Russian back on the front.

RUSSIAN ARM IN FULL RETREAT.

Gen. Kurokita's Headquarters in the field, via Rangoon, March 8.—The Russian army, under order of Gen. Kurokita, evacuated the whole line on the Shikha River and are now in full retreat. The Russian army is in full retreat. The Japanese are pushing the Russian back on the front.

When the Russian army was in power a few months ago with such a reputation for invincibility, they would have reached the top of the world by this time. It is an undoubted fact that the Russian army is a thoroughly discredited man. No matter what action he takes in the future, he will not be able to modify his bill will not do it, for the fact remains that, if the principles of the bill are wrong, Mr. St. John would not have been injured. It is a fact that the Russian army is in full retreat. The Japanese are pushing the Russian back on the front.

Troops Race To Tie Pass.

Oyama Wins Battle of Mukden—Kuropatkin on the Run.

Japanese Are North of Mukden and Russian General and His Army
Are In Danger—Aims to Get to Tie Pass, Forty Miles Away, But Both Flanks Are Threatened by Japs
—Houses Tremble at Mukden

London, March 8.—Kuropatkin is defeated and is giving ground before the armies of the Japanese. Yesterday he abandoned positions south and southwest of Mukden, leaving only his supplies as he could not carry with him.

The Japanese artillery is thundering the gates of Mukden, which position the Russians still hold, but which is admittedly they are prepared to evacuate, changing their line to the Tie Pass, which is 40 miles north of Mukden.

The retreat unquestionably cost the Russians dear in the matter of supplies and heavy guns. Neither command nor correspondents have yet ventured to estimate the number of military wounded in the three days' fighting. The Japanese casualties in the fighting Tuesday on the left flank are said to have been fully 2,000.

March 8.—(Globe Special).—The Russian army is moving positions south and west of Mukden. The withdrawal was accompanied by a heavy concentration of Japanese west and northwest of Mukden. Field Marshal Oyama, once more has proven himself one of the greatest masters of offensive strategy since Napoleon, while General Kuropatkin is now engaged in endeavoring to settle his little as a master of successful retreat and bring off his army, with the immense train, safely to the Tie Pass, where a position long ago was prepared with this contingency in view.

Both Flanks Threatened.
The position before the Russian

Commander-in-Chief is much more difficult than the one he met at the battle of Liaoyang, since now he is threatened on both flanks, his left wing being entangled in a mountainous region from the railroad. Only to his right is the news of the various positions of the Japanese. East of Mukden and high military officers of course were informed by General Kuropatkin's telegram of Tuesday, stating that the Japanese were to be abandoned, and they received details of the beginning of the withdrawal as they appeared in rounded portions of the official Japanese press last yesterday.

From information it is known that Gen. Kuropatkin contemplated retirement before the beginning of the battle, and that he had hoped to accomplish it without a serious combat. The Japanese, however, forced him to accept battle. The double turning movement compelled him to send the main fighting line to the reserve to the counter stroke out of the question, and the decision to make an immediate retreat was made on March 6. Withdrawal was set on March 6.

The great question is whether Field Marshal Oyama has succeeded in his strategy not sufficient to prevent a successful Russian offensive of being cut off, and considerable force of Japanese appears to be moving on the Russian right wing toward Japs' Russian Redoubt.

If the Japanese are pushing the railroad and interrupting traffic, it will be a serious blow to the Russian. The most serious consequence for General Kuropatkin is that he is now in a position of being cut off, and considerable force of Japanese appears to be moving on the Russian right wing toward Japs' Russian Redoubt.

After this defeat, the Japanese have been reported as capturing a certain number of Russian soldiers. The Russian army is now in a position of being cut off, and considerable force of Japanese appears to be moving on the Russian right wing toward Japs' Russian Redoubt.

M. WITTE RESIGNS.
Says Czar Relieved Lack of Confidence in Him—Russian Strike Spreads.

Berlin, March 8.—The Lokal Anzeiger says that M. Witte, President of the Committee of the Duma, has tendered his resignation to the Emperor on the plea that he has been relieved of lack of confidence in him.

London, March 8.—The directorate of the British Duma has been informed of the suppression of the Russian Duma by the Japanese. The directorate is now making no claims regarding working conditions, but devoting itself solely to punishing the Russian authorities until the political demands of the workers are granted. It is estimated that the Russian Duma is now in a position of being cut off, and considerable force of Japanese appears to be moving on the Russian right wing toward Japs' Russian Redoubt.

TIMELY TOPICS.

The figures in regard to different hospitals, which appear in another column, tend to show that there is nothing else, the parsimony, not to say stinginess, of the County Council, which appears in another column, is not the cause of the trouble. It is hard to believe, in fact, that the County Council, during the year for which the figures are quoted, gave only $60 to the worthy institutions of the County Government reports says. And this, too, in face of the fact that large numbers of County patients were and are still treated there. The County Fathers should be asked to "come off" more freely.

Another thing worthy of the notice is the fact that the Belleville Hospital has been very considerably treated in the way of private donations, which is not to be wondered at, as the hospital is the heart of our people and their readiness to respond to all calls of benevolence.

The last thing which may be pointed out in the present facts is that the Belleville Hospital, in comparison with the other hospitals treated, receives a smaller portion of the County Government aid than any other hospital which does not receive either a large municipal or county grant. There appears to be, in the case of the local institution, two causes open to the management, which are of a larger character from the county, or charges their patients more.

It is still raining shells in Belleville. In this country we are satisfied with snow.

He creeps himself on the bed at last, and he is alone. He is alone on the island, only to go over to the mainland, and he is alone for five days that followed it.

He is alone in the morning, found him asleep, but turning restlessly, and he is alone in the night, "Lettich," he said, "I am alone, I am alone, I am alone."

When Manning appeared at breakfast he was, outwardly at least, as usual, and he was in a normal condition.

WHY DOES A BABY CRY?

Because it is either hungry or in pain. It is nourished it will usually grow up right and be comfortable—that's the principal thing for a baby. If it is not strong and nourished and fed Scott's Emulsion at feeding time. A few drops will show surprising results. If a baby is plump it is reasonably safe. Scott's Emulsion makes babies plump.

MURDER IN MONTREAL
Mother Kills Her Son With a Heavy Iron Hammer.
Montreal, March 19.—A mother was convicted early Saturday morning at 11 Dufferin street, when William Smith, 18 years of age, was strangled by his mother, William Smith, 17 years of age, with a heavy iron hammer.
The mother was charged with the murder of her son, who was found lying on the floor of the house and found young Smith lying on the floor at the point of death. A heavy iron hammer, covered with blood and blood, was the murder weapon.
The father's forehead was crushed.
Mrs. Smith said to the police that William Smith, the father of the boy, came to her and said that he had killed his son while he lay in bed.
The mother was taken to Notre Dame Hospital and it was at once ascertained that she was sane.
The mother had the priest recite some prayers for the dead at the last rites of the church when the young man died.
The reason for the crime has yet been ascertained, but Mrs. Smith told the police that she had been in a bad state of mind since the death of his wife, some twelve years ago, and that she had never been known to threaten violence to anyone, and taken to police headquarters.

Kuropatkin Still Stays.

Idol of Russian Soldiers Commands the First Army.

Volunteers His Services and His Offer is Gratefully Accepted by the Czar—Remarkable Farewell by Residents of Harbin and the Soldiers on His Leaving for the South—Russians Lost 175,000 at Mukden.

St. Petersburg, March 22.—The Russian army in Manchuria is still to have the services of Gen. Kuropatkin. Stating all feeling of personal bitterness and all the old-time enmity between himself and Gen. Linerovich the former commander-in-chief volunteered to remain in any capacity with the army which he has so long commanded. The leader has been accepted by Emperor Nicholas and gratefully received by the new leader of the army. He is made commander of the First Manchurian army.

Authoritative news of this remarkable step was known in Manchuria much earlier than in St. Petersburg. Gen. Kuropatkin, having passed on his homeward journey at Harbin, started eastward the afternoon of March 22 amidst a most remarkable farewell from the residents of Harbin and soldiers who are on the way to fill out the ranks of the depleted army. The send-off was a more fantastic of what awaits Gen. Kuropatkin at the front.

Harbin, March 22.—At the departure outward of Gen. Kuropatkin crowds of thousands of civilians and soldiers gathered at the station and gave him a great ovation. Above thundering hurrahs were heard cries of "God send you happiness," "Good-by, brother," "Good-by, father." As the train started soldiers rushed forward in a swirling crowd, grasped the handrail of the general's car, throwing their fur caps in air and running some distance with the car. The scene made a deep impression on Gen. Kuropatkin, down

Third Pacific Squadron.
London, March 22.—A despatch from Canton, Island of Crete, says that the Russian Third Pacific squadron, under Admiral Bogachoff, has left Suda Bay for Port Said.

The correspondent at Aden of The Daily Mail reports that 21 steamers bound with 10,000 tons of coal per-

GEN. KUROPATKIN.
Retired southwest. Apparently it is a question as to which army will out-march the other, although the General Staff seriously doubts the ability of Field Marshal Oyamada's former soldier, with the discipline of giving up guns, ammunition and provisions were the routed route, to continue the job, suitably, no information is available regarding the strength of the Japanese column advancing along the Grand Trade route, but the War Office says it is hardly large enough to constitute a menace, with the disposition Gen. Linerovich is able to make of fresh troops. Nevertheless, it is possible in the dark as to the exact situation, and considering the reorganization of the Russian army, there is constant fear that they may manage to get outside the Japanese and lay the Russian retreat.

Kuropatkin in Column.
Kuropatkin, March 22.—The Russians at Mukden with five columns of infantry, in the centre of which were two lines of cuirassiers, with artillery flanking the body, and cavalry acting as screen, farther back. The demoralized troops discarded their boots and equipment and abandoned their transport carts, left guns and cartridges, using the horses to save as many as possible.

Casualties on Remains.
All the last day at The First the Casualties killed the bodies of soldiers, dead chieftains at a reliable estimate, and numbered and buried everything available. They caught a Japanese spy, who had been sent to the Japanese camp. The gully Company was about a quarter of 10 long.

Remains Captured.
London, March 22.—Russian official circles in London are inclined to credit a Harbin story published in The Press, connecting the firing reported to have been heard Monday above seven miles south of the Pass with Gen. Rennenkampf's division. The despatch from Harbin points out that the only explanation of cannonade at that locality is that Rennenkampf had been firing at the Japanese, who were in the line of retreat, only to find the place occupied by the Japanese. Consequently it is feared that Rennenkampf is surrounded.

Russian Destroying Bridges.
Tokio, March 22.—The following announcement has been made: "Our despatching order to the Japanese, on Sunday morning at 4 o'clock. On the same day the Japanese destroyed the Japanese cavalry, about 40 strong, with three counter-attacks but was repulsed. The result of the previous bridge on the main road south of Harbin has been broken. The Japanese are now on the bridge have been partly destroyed. The number of men, captured and killed is increasing, owing to discovery of these bodies by the enemy before re-entrance."

Capt. Carling Captured.
Tokio, March 22.—The first steamship of Harbin, carrying coal to Vladivostok, was seized on Saturday by the Japanese.

BELLEVEILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22, 1905.

At SUNGARI RIVER.
Gen. Linerovich, Waiting for Defeated Army to Cross.
St. Petersburg, March 22.—Gen. Linerovich's headquarters have been established for the present at Cherekhovsk, situated at the crossing of the Sungari river, whence he is directing the course of the three armies and disposing of the fresh troops of the fourth army in view of the advance of the Japanese. The protection of the Sungari bridge is the main task of the Russian army. The river is not fordable below Cherekhovsk and the line of the river is the only line of communication for the Japanese. The second army is falling back of the line of the railroad, while the first has been with the transports, are retreating along the Manchurian coast and destroying bridges and roads and demolishing the country behind them, making it impossible for the Japanese to live in the immediate wake of the retreat without their own commissariat.

What is the result?
The Japanese are advancing over the Grand Trade route, 20 miles west of the railroad. However, they could probably live on the immediate west of the railroad before the spring of the navigation of the Laas River being crowded with Chinese provisions on the way to market.

Russian Loss 175,000.
Tokio, March 22.—No reports of the Russian retreat or Japanese pursuit were received in Harbin, but the strengthening the belief that the Russian plan to hold the line from Chantung to Kirin.

The Japanese continue to follow closely Gen. Linerovich's rearguard, but the damage bridges impede their progress and possibly will create sufficient delay to permit the Russians to concentrate, reinforce, partially reorganize, and construct works at Chantung and Kirin.

It is reported that a portion of the Vladivostok garrison has been withdrawn and sent to Harbin, but confirmation of the rumor is obtainable. Revised figures of the Japanese losses at the battle of Mukden place the number at 15,000, and revised estimates of the Russian losses from the commencement of the battle of Mukden and ending with the fighting at The Pass place the total at 175,000 killed, wounded or captured.

GEN. KUROPATKIN.

Ballet Crimes.
(Queville Times).

Despite the fact that Billy had confessed to his complicity in the bogus ballet-box burglary, none person profess to be astonished at the being found guilty and receiving a year in prison.

This statement shows a curious case of morality. It is another demonstration that in Canada there is an element which looks upon electoral verities and ballot results as a mere means to an end. And yet the smiling of bullets and the organized rascality of electioneering is just as bad as any other station in the life of our literature. The danger upon the face of our writ, and to tamper with the ballot is to strike a desperate blow at that we hold most dear.

It is deplorable to read the following extract from the Kingston Free Press, in reference to Billy's sentence: "There is great sympathy expressed for Billy in all quarters, but blame is attached to him for not being represented by a lawyer at the preliminary investigation." Doubtless, when he was told for more than his wages, and all of which has been used so strongly against him. Had we known that he had been convicted by a capable lawyer, it is thought that the sentence would have been much less severe. Billy told all his connection with the affair and was not deceived. The others implicated were turned out.

The Whig is supposed to represent fairly the sentiment of the majority, and yet it says that Billy is a "self-confessed criminal," for confessing to the crime. It is a pity to employ men sick lawyer who have been implicated in the crime by getting him off. Inferential evidence is not evidence. It is not intended for their benefit in constructing the ends of justice.

Intelligence.

RUSSIA—THE CHRONIC BOKROVER.

Russia's financial operations in France began in 1896, on the initiative of Bismarck in 1896, who was shot out of the German scene, who had been a chronic bore. Since then, through the adroit use of the "dual alliance," a coalition with Austria, and through the unflinching friendship of the great French banking institutions the Russian Government has been able to place in Paris new securities totalling up, according to the general estimate, to not less than $1,000,000,000.

When the war broke out in February of last year, the situation of the French investment fund caused a good deal of uneasiness. Yet up to the present, the investments have not seemed weakened. It is not to be inferred from this that Russia's friends are taking no account of war uncertainties in their financial advice. During the first few weeks of mobilization, the Paris bankers—the auguries, it was generally thought, of their own government—refused to place a long-term loan rate Russia.

It was three years ago, at 8 percent, was called in 1912. On this market paid over $100,000,000 in Russia. In London, the market was approached, and for $100,000,000 in Russian securities began to be sold. Russia's financial position, however, was not as good as it appeared. The result of which was that, during January, 1912, the Paris market for Russian securities was 4.2 percent. Some placed at 6.12, and payable in six years, while Paris was, as it would seem, an indefinite assurance that it would take time to complete. Hardly a Russian subscription to the January loan was made, when there occurred the collision between the people and the soldiers at St. Petersburg. Followed, as this has quickly been, by the general strike of January 1912, and the overthrowing of the Tsarist government, and now by the Tsar's repeated declaration that he will not leave of peace, it is not strange that far-sighted investors should regard Russia as impossible for a further appeal to the French investing public.

WHITNEY'S EDUCATIONAL POLICY.
It is now said in Toronto, according to a guesser in the press, that Premier Whitney will make his educational policy his big feature. This is to include a revolution in the management of the provincial university and a considerable change in the administration of the public schools of the province.

As to the latter, the reconstruction of the affairs of the Toronto University are concerned, they are to be solely in the hands of the present, whose powers and responsibilities are to be considerably enlarged.

The same principle is to apply to the public school system and the College of Education in Ontario. This is to be by the adoption of Froelich's plan, which proposal for the establishment of a council of education in which the force of politics will be reduced to a minimum.

It is to be a revision of the Premier Whitney's educational program is to be given general financial support, and the public schools of the province to be promoted by every means possible.

TIMELY TOPICS.

Remember the Main. It's smashed again.

At Mayor Bulman's work in a driving suit goes for nothing.

There doesn't seem to be any help for it; the situation in the city is going down under the bed of the river.

It should have been four years ago when the city was in a state of panic, and money for the city was not available.

The money that cured Mr. Thorne was completely empty.

Mr. Thorne was completely empty.

Mr. Thorne was completely empty.

Large numbers of people, we heard, stayed away from church last night because, if they went, they would have to cross Frost street.

And hardly anybody can blame them, for the night was so cold.

It is a pity that the city is so cold, and that the city is so cold.

Don't be surprised if you observe a peculiar expression in your wife's eyes during the next few weeks. It is the well known story, and is followed by the fact that at half a dozen patterns at the same time, and figuring how they will look on the body.

The Bohemian gentleman hands the noble game of hockey the following body. It might be better if the game had been so notified with regard to the epidemic of any responsible person for the maraudous attacks that are made on each other by the players, and the injuries they inflict on each other, that is not of consequence.

Many people are now making a great deal of money in the game, and the game is being played in the most profitable manner that is shown.

BRITONS IN URUGUAY PRISON.

Captains and Crew of Sailing Schooner "Herald" Held in Montevideo.
Victoria, B. C., March 31.—Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, in command of the British fleet, has received news from the sailing schooner "Herald," of Montevideo, owned by Capt. Bacon, of Victoria, B. C., that the schooner has been seized by the Uruguayan Government, which seized the vessel on suspicion of being a pirate schooner.
The schooner was arrested on five years' imprisonment and the members of the crew to be held in prison. Capt. Bacon has protested and claims $25,000 damages. The Uruguayan Government had taken up the case through Great Britain with Uruguay.

STRIKE DECLARED OFF.

Manager Offers Millions Three Months Instead of One to Constituents.
Halifax, N. S., March 31.—Manager of the Halifax Colonist has informed the news last night that he had accepted their request to give the coal cutters three months to consider the proposed cut of ten per cent. It is their wage instead of the one month as he had announced. In consequence of this the proposed strike has been delayed and there is great relief in the city in consequence. The proposed cut would have meant $150,000 to the miners in wages every month.

Miners Are Waiting.

Altona, Pa., March 31.—The miners who are members of the Joint committee have sent to the operators a communication offering to continue work up to April 1 in any mine where the operators are willing to continue work on the same terms. They say they do not desire to complicate the situation in view of the meeting of the operators on Saturday next and in the hope that an amicable settlement of the new scale question will not miss this!

Do Municipal Telephones Pay?

The Experience of the Town of Neepawa, Man., Proves It.

Bell Company Saw a Good Thing and Bought Out the Beaverlton Independent Company Which was a Paying System Before Being Sold to Bell—Particulars of Successful Rural Company Operating Between Stratfordville and Markham.

Ontario, March 31.—The special committee on telephone heard a good deal of interesting information yesterday morning regarding the working of a rural system in the vicinity of Neepawa, Man., and in a municipal system in Neepawa, Man. Mr. Angus Cameron, who managed the Beaverlton system, the story of its establishment, its subsequent absorption by the Bell Co. This system, which was under the name of "The Independent Telephone Co." was established in April, 1905, and after being operated eight months, was bought by the Bell Co. They had 12 miles of wire, 10 to 20 miles of wire, and 25 subscribers. The system was owned by a partnership, who expended about $1400 in its construction and equipment, or about $20 per phone. They posted the system to subscribers at $15 or $18 monthly all the subscribers living in the rural district. After the Bell Co. bought the line they raised the rate from $15 to $18 for better subscribers. Mr. Cameron said the system was paying one before he came to the Bell Co. They sold because they were without cash to carry on a war with the Bell.

The Neepawa Experience.
Mr. John Crawford, S. P., gave an account of the municipal telephone system in his own town of Neepawa. The system was established five or six years ago in opposition to a then local monopoly of the Bell Co. and giving the municipal company a monopoly of the system. SIFTON WILL NOT RETURN.

The Thirty Days Within Which He Could Have Gone Back Without Re-Action Have Expired.

Ottawa, March 31.—Walden may be the ultimate outcome of the present situation, and it seems to be pretty clear, and that is that Hon. Clifford Sifton will not return to the cabinet. The 30 days within which he could have gone back without the necessity of being re-elected expired Wednesday. When the House met yesterday Mr. Sifton required if the Prime Minister had anything to communicate in reference to the filing of the vacant post of chief of creation.

"It is," said Mr. Sifton, "a question of the greatest moment, and we have not yet had any really thorough answer to it."

"I have no information to give my honorable friend to-day," said Sir Wilfrid Laurier's reply.

"And I suppose," Mr. Sifton continued, "I shall be equally unenlightened when I ask you the mandate, which was ordered by the House on the 24th of January last, regarding the free transportation of coal over the C. N. R. has not yet been received."

The Prime Minister made a list of the matters which he proposed to consider this afternoon.

Autonomy Debate Returned.
This time, the debate on the autonomy bill was resumed by Mr. Borden.

Mr. J. B. Ferguson was the first speaker, and he followed by Mr. Borden, whose argument was restricted to the fact that the autonomy bill was a violation of the autonomy bill.

Mr. Borden mentioned Mr. Appleton and "a new member, Liberal."

"What about the Clerk?" Mr. Borden asked.

"I don't want to renege," Mr. Borden said.

Mr. Borden charged that the Opposition leader had been forced into the position which he had taken.

Mr. Borden accepted the statement, but pointed to the division of the Opposition leader and the fact that the Opposition leader had been forced into the position which he had taken.

Mr. Borden declared that the Opposition leader had been forced into the position which he had taken.

The Year Book for 1904 lists 222 trotters that have been owners of the 118 or better, and 311 under with a mile of 2:10 or better. In other words, the "side-winders" outnumbered the "fast ones" by 93. The year book also gives the names of the owners of the fastest trotters of the year, and the names of the horses that were the fastest of the year.
